INTERNATIONAL CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

RULES

PARTICIPATION

Any dog that has been proclaimed Croatian Champion (CH HR) or Croatian Young Champion (CHM HR) or International Champion (INT CH) is entitled to participate.

PRE-SELECTION

The pre-selection will be held before the final competition of the finalists.

The judges will have the opportunity to examine each dog one by one and to have a look at them in stand and in movement. They will evaluate each dog with a mark from 1 to 10, and the marks will be written in special judging lists. A judge will evaluate each dog individually, sitting at his table. There will be three separated judging tables in the ring, and the judges will not be allowed to communicate with each other during judging. After awarding marks (points) will have been completed, the judging lists will be handed over to a commission, who will sum up the points and forward a list with the catalogue numbers of the finalists (32 dogs) in a closed envelope to the master of ceremonies. On the list, the dogs will be ordered according to their catalogue numbers, not the number of points achieved. In case two or more dogs have the same number of points, the preference will be given according to the sex criterion agreed previously (preference given to females), the number of champion titles required for entry and the age of the dog.

CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

The procedure is identical for each FCI group – the dogs enter one by one and, after having walked ceremonially around the ring, they stop while the master of ceremonies announces the catalogue numbers of the best placed dogs – finalists. The finalists draw publicly the numbers for participation in the finals, while the other dogs leave the ring collecting appropriate prizes. Couples are formed according to the numbers that the finalists have drawn publicly. The table of the couples formed will be printed in the catalogue, and it will serve as base for forming further couples. The three final judges select publicly the best dog in the couple presented. Further couples are formed from the dogs selected and continuing the same way until forming the final couple. The winner is selected between the two final dogs. 32 finalists constitute 16 couples.

FIRST ROUND FINALS CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

After that, the 16 couples enter the ring and the judges vote for dogs in the way agreed. After the voting has been completed, the selected dogs move back, while the others leave the ring collecting their prizes.

SECOND ROUND FINAL CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

16 selected dogs (8 couples formed according to the table of couples) enter the ring. The jury selects 8 best dogs by voting.

THIRD ROUND FINALS CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

8 dogs (4 couples) enter the ring and the jury selects 4 dogs for the further competition. Dogs that have not been selected leave the ring collecting their prizes.

FOURTH ROUND FINALS CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS

The best dogs in the both couples are selected.

CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS – FINALS

The prize for the winner is brought to the ring. The final couple is presented in the ring and the jury selects the winner.

The judging is public and visible to everyone all the time, except to the judges who do not communicate with each other.
